IOANNA KARAVELA
PRODUCER, EP: IK PICTURES

ATHENA MANDIS
WRITER, DIRECTOR

SOULLA CHRISTODOULOU
AUTHOR

A special film presentation on The Summer Will Come—a story of migration, identity, and the cost of freedom, exploring how displacement reshapes not only one life, but generations. Based on award-nominated novelist Soulla Christodoulou's book, The Summer Will Come was selected as a Barnet Libraries Book Club Read during London's Year of Learning Festival in 2019. The novel is currently under contract for Greek translation and is in development as a feature film, reflecting the author's commitment to bringing Cyprus-centred stories to international audiences.

Logline: As Cyprus rises toward independence from the British in the 1950s, Evangelia flees with her children to London to rebuild her life—but as both she and her homeland claim their freedom, she is forced to confront the quiet, irreversible cost of displacement.

MODERATOR: PAVLOS NEOCLEOUS

theo paphitis

8 MAY 2026 | 14:30 - 15:15 | CONFERENCE ROOM A

THEO PAPHITIS

RETAIL ENTREPRENEUR, TV DRAGON, PHILANTHROPIST

Theo Paphitis was born in Cyprus in 1959. Leaving school at 16 due to dyslexia, he began his career as a filing clerk at a Lloyds of London brokerage before discovering his passion for retail at Watches of Switzerland. He later gained experience in finance and property in a customer-facing insurance role. Returning to retail, Theo revived high street names including Ryman, Partners the Stationers, Stationery Box, La Senza, Contessa Lingerie, and Robert Dyas. In 2005, he co-purchased Red Letter Days with fellow Dragon Peter Jones, turning it around and selling it in 2017. In 2011, he launched the global lingerie brand Boux Avenue. In 2015, he established Theo Paphitis Retail Group, encompassing Ryman, Robert Dyas and Boux Avenue, totalling over 300 stores and 4,000 employees. In 2016 he added the iconic arts destination, London Graphic Centre, to his portfolio. A passionate sports enthusiast, Theo served eight years as Chairman of Millwall Football Club, achieving promotion to the Championship, an FA Cup Final, and European qualification. He co-founded sports marketing company Movie & Media Sports and is now Chairman of MB Partners, a boutique sports management agency. Theo is well known for his eight-year tenure on BBC's Dragons' Den (2005–2012), returning for series 17 (2019) and 18 (2021), investing in and mentoring numerous small businesses. He has appeared regularly on TV and radio as a business expert and current affairs commentator on programmes including Question Time, Newsnight, Sunday with Laura Kuenssberg, The One Show, BBC News and Radio and LBC. In October 2023, Theo became the first 'Dyslexia Empowerment Patron' of the British Dyslexia Association, advocating for a society that empowers individuals with dyslexia to reach their full potential. In 2025, he became the Visiting Professor of Entrepreneurship for the University of Derby. Theo is also a small business champion, supporting thousands through his free #SBS Small Business Sunday network in the UK.

FIRESIDE CHAT

john kiriakou

8 MAY 2026 | 16:30 - 17:30 | CONFERENCE ROOM A

JOHN KIRIAKOU

CIA TORTURE WHISTLEBLOWER

John Kiriakou is a journalist and former CIA counterterrorism officer, as well as a former senior investigator for the US Senate Foreign Relations Committee and a former counterterrorism consultant for ABC News. In 2002, he was involved in the capture in Pakistan of Abu Zubaydah, who was at the time believed to be the third-ranking official in Al-Qaeda. In 2007, Kiriakou became a whistleblower by publicly exposing the CIA's torture programme, stating in an interview with ABC News that the torture of detainees was official US government policy and that it had been authorised by then President George W. Bush. He subsequently became the sixth whistleblower prosecuted under the Espionage Act during the Obama administration — legislation originally intended to punish espionage. As a result, he served 23 months in prison. Kiriakou is the author of eight books, including The Reluctant Spy: My Secret Life in the CIA's War on Terror; Doing Time Like a Spy: How the CIA Taught Me to Survive and Thrive in Prison; The Convenient Terrorist: Abu Zubaydah and the Weird Wonderland of America's Secret Wars; and The CIA Insider's Guide to the Iran Crisis.

KEYNOTE EXPERIENCE: MINDS IN CYPRUS

the brain gain initiative

8 MAY 2026 | 09:50 - 10:25 | CONFERENCE ROOM B

IRENE PIKI

DEPUTY MINISTER TO THE PRESIDENT OF CYPRUS

Minds in Cyprus is an official government initiative designed to encourage talented Cypriot professionals living abroad to return and contribute to the country's economic and social development. Launched by the President of the Republic of Cyprus, H.E. Mr. Nikos Christodoulides, the initiative connects skilled members of the diaspora with local employers, with a particular focus on sectors such as fintech, shipping, and technology. It targets Cypriots with substantial professional experience gained overseas, aiming to reverse brain drain through targeted incentives, including proposed tax exemptions on employment income. Minds in Cyprus also supports repatriation by offering guidance on the local business environment, mentoring, and access to career opportunities, positioning the initiative as a strategic "brain gain" effort to strengthen Cyprus' competitiveness in the global talent market.

HOST: LUCY LOIZOU

REPATRIATION TO CYPRUS

bringing talent home

8 MAY 2026 | 10:30 - 11:25 | CONFERENCE ROOM B

Repatriation is increasingly seen as a key growth strategy for Cyprus, focusing on encouraging skilled Cypriots abroad to return and contribute to the economy. This includes developing incentives, strengthening national identity, and creating new opportunities that make Cyprus an attractive destination for returnees. A central part of this effort is fostering public-private partnerships, where government and the private sector collaborate to build career pathways, support networks, and targeted incentives that facilitate and sustain talent return.
